Bioheart's Kristin Comella Named to 50 Most Influential People on Stem Cells

Sunrise, FL –December 18th, 2012 - Bioheart Inc. (BHRT.QB) announced that Bioheart's Chief Science Officer, Kristin Comella was named to the 50 most influential people on stem cells. The World Stem Cell Regenerative Medicine Congress asked the international stem cell community to compile a comprehensive list of the top 50. These personalities were picked based on their career achievements and dedication to the field of regenerative medicine. Ms. Comella debuted at #24 on the list.

Bioheart's president and CEO, Mike Tomas said, "Bioheart is honored to have Kristin Comella leading our exciting platform of regenerative medicine products. Her dedication and accomplishments in the field justifiably recognized by her peers."

About Bioheart, Inc.

Bioheart is committed to maintaining its leading position within the cardiovascular sector of the cell technology industry delivering cell therapies and biologics that help address congestive heart failure, lower limb ischemia, chronic heart ischemia, acute myocardial infarctions and other issues. Bioheart's goals are to cause damaged tissue to be regenerated, when possible, and to improve a patient's quality of life and reduce health care costs and hospitalizations.

-MORE-

Specific to biotechnology, Bioheart is focused on the discovery, development and, subject to regulatory approval, commercialization of autologous cell therapies for the treatment of chronic and acute heart damage and peripheral vascular disease. Its leading product, MyoCell, is a clinical muscle-derived cell therapy designed to populate regions of scar tissue within a patient's heart with new living cells for the purpose of improving cardiac function in chronic heart failure patients.
